

Why BridgingLife?

BridgingLife, formerly Carroll Hospice, has been providing skilled end-of-life care in Carroll, Frederick and Baltimore counties for 35 years, and we have broadened our care to serve families in Baltimore City and in Adams and York counties in Pennsylvania.

Our mission is simple. We are dedicated to enhancing the quality of life for patients through the end of life, allowing them to live as fully and as comfortably as possible. We do this by providing skilled palliative care, pain and symptom management, and support for their families.

Here are just a few of the reasons to entrust your loved one's care to BridgingLife:

- A uniquely personal approach to care. Our customized care plans are specifically tailored to the preferences of each patient and his or her family, with our team of professionals and volunteers working together to meet their needs.
- Our team. Our team of interdisciplinary professionals and volunteers provide care in your choice of residence, whether it's a private home, nursing home or assisted living facility or at one of our inpatient facilities when symptoms cannot be effectively managed in another care setting. All of our team members value and pursue certification in end-of-life care.
- Quality. Our staff continues to exceed state and national benchmarks in quality hospice care to ensure the very best care through the end of life.
- Grief support. Individual bereavement counseling and a myriad of support groups are available for family members to help during this challenging time.
- Volunteers. Our volunteers play a vital role in our program, from serving as helpers or companions to patients and their families, to our veteran volunteers recognizing the military service of our veteran patients through the We Honor Veterans program.
